iDirect Overview

iDirect is an independent optional satellite platform. Like DiRECWAY iDirect provides high-speed bandwidth and satellite connectivity using various network hubs [NOC's] throughout the world. iDirect differs from DiRECWAY in that they offer consistent high-speed uploads and greater network throughput which translates to the ability to offer excellent VoIP and VPN services.

Lyman Brothers [LBI Sat] is the local MotoSAT affiliated iDirect hub where iDirect bandwidth is purchased and resold making MotoSAT an official iDirect VAR. All iDirect hardware used for new or converted DataStorm F3 mounts will also be purchased from Lyman Brothers.

iDirect bandwidth is offered through LBI Sat according to the current set bandwidth plan. All iDirect bandwidth pipelines are based on user ratios. For example a 256 KB download pipeline can be offered at a 15:1 ratio meaning that there are 15 dedicated users on that bandwidth pipeline. Various ratios exist depending on application bandwidth requirements, cost limitations and the iDirect hub's availability. Currently MotoSAT is offered only one ratio for download [15:1] and one for the upload [8:1] Eventually after enough users are turned on through MotoSAT for iDirect service via LBI Sat, MotoSAT will purchase a dedicated bandwidth 'pipeline' through LBI Sat which can significantly reduce the charges for monthly service.
